CAMPAIGN TO DELAY DRAFT GIVEN CHANCE

Compromise Program Gains Strength in Senate After General's Statement.

WASHINGTON Aug. 15—The house rejected today a proposal to restrict to the continental United States and a few other areas under the American flag the use of national guardsmen and army reserves who soon may be called to active service.

WASHINGTON, Aug 15—Administration strategists privately acknowledged today that there was a good chance the senate would reject immediate conscription in favor of a compromise program deferring the start of compulsory service until January.

Senate leaders said that their plan for enactment of the Burke-Wadsworth immediate conscription bill had run into difficulties because of the statement by Brigadier General Lesley J. McNair, assistant chief of staff, that the army would be unable to absorb a full quota of draftees before December.

Fuel for Foes

The army statement, they said, had furnished ammunition to opponents of the compromise measure offered by Senator Maloney (D-Conn.) who would register all men between 21 and 31 immediately but postpone the calling of any until July 1941.

While senate sentiment shifts appeared to be reached on the basis of a compromise next week, one report added after a check-up, a measure was apt to win approval.

It was pointed out that the compromise in providing for immediate registration of conscription next January makes the start contingent on the army's failure to obtain enough men by voluntary enlistment by that date. Foes of immediate conscription have argued that given the opportunity voluntary enlistments would be numerous enough to make a draft unnecessary.

In the house meanwhile, Democratic leaders drove ahead in their effort getting a final vote by tomorrow on senate-approved legislation authorizing the President to call the national guard and army reservists for a year's active service.

Would Limit Area

Leaders first faced the task, however, of defeating a Republican-sponsored effort to limit the service of guardsmen and militia to the continental United States—a restriction previously voted down by the senate.

Formally anticipating ultimate approval for the mobilization measure, the war department disclosed yesterday that revised schedules had been prepared to induct guard units—some 220,000 men—in active service by Jan. 1 1941 If the law passes, it was said the first group of

ON THE SOUTHEAST COAST OF ENGLAND, Aug. 15—Germany sent some 500 bombing and fighting planes over the coastline of Britain today, seeking out military objectives in the heart of the country.

The armada which swarmed over southeastern England during the day was estimated at uncounted hundreds and covered a strip approximately 30 miles wide, but reports indicated that other waves of almost equal strength were being thrown across the coast all the way from the Thames estuary to Land's End in the west

During a three-hour afternoon raid the Germans followed the same tactics by which some 150 heavy bombers had been maneuvered across the coast during the morning

While the German fighters engaged the British Hurricane and Spitfire patrols in deadly dogfights from 12,000 to 15,000 feet up, the bombers crossed the coast in close formation and flew inland

From the balcony of my hotel I counted six waves of 18 heavy German bombers in less than three minutes

This morning I saw three German planes shot down.

This afternoon a direct hit from an anti-aircraft gun literally blasted a fourth Messerschmitt out of the sky.

I had my field glasses trained on him when a shell struck the plane fairly amidships. The plane bounded almost 100 feet, broke in two then plunged flaming into the sea. A column of water at least 100 yards high shot up.

This was just outside my window, so close that machine gun bullets and spent fragments of jagged shrapnel were embedded in the walls outside.

Two of the barrage balloons protecting the coast came down in flames

I saw a German plane throw a three-second burst of machine gun bullets into one of the bags. The balloon fell in five flaming parts and finally crashed behind a headland, leaving a tall column of heavy black smoke.

At this moment the roar of motors can be heard high in the sky. They sound like heavy German bombers on their way home

"Matilda," the favorite balloon of the townspeople, still is riding high. Matildas one, two and three have been knocked down within the last four days.

Ohio Senator's Blast Follows Charges at Ohio U.

NELSONVILLE, O., Aug 15—State Sen H T Phillips of Athens wants the legislature to withhold funds from state-supported colleges and universities which allow "un-American and subversive activities.

Cutting off the flow of state money would be the quickest way to halt such activities at the schools, Dr. Phillips told the Nelsonville Rotary club.

"Whenever it can be shown to the satisfaction of constituted authority that such subversive acts are knowingly permitted by the school administration, all financial support by the state should be immediately withheld until such abuses are corrected," he declared.

Recently the Athens Messenger assailed the Ohio university administration editorially about "communistic forces allowed by the administration to run rampant on the campus."

The Messenger's criticism was prompted by an editorial in the Ohio University Post, student paper, opposing passage of the Burke - Wadsworth compulsory military training bill. Robert L. Wertman, Post editor, challenged anyone to prove radical forces were at work on the campus.

BLITZKRIEG IN 5TH DAY NOW; RAF HITS BACK

Nazi Raiders Attack Northeast England After Rather Peaceful Night.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Aug. 15—Far-extending lines of German bombers, protected by a skirmish front of fighters, kept up waves of attacks on Britain's shore, from southeast to southwest, and felt out a comparative new zone with great activity on the northeast today in the fifth successive day of air assault.

Ten of the raiders were reported shot down in today's far-flung battles, six over the southeastern coast, three over a northeastern town and one over Scotland.

While Britain struck ferociously with a midnight-to-dawn shower of bombs on 100 miles of German-held French coast, from Calais to Le Havre, after a night of comparative quiet in England, the Germans sent swarms of aircraft which engaged in miles-high battles over the southeast coast.

One southeast coast town reported its fiercest air fight of the war when long streams of bombers came filtering in at their targets.

Two battles were fought high above another southeast town, one with about 80 planes engaged inland, the other over the water, with about 30 taking part Five German bombers were sent spinning down in these encounters

Press association reports from the northeast told of "widespread enemy air activity."

In the southwest other German aircraft were seeking out new targets.

Gun for Chutists

In the midlands and Scotland, farmers armed with shotguns and troops in armored cars drew tighter nets thrown about thickly wooded sections where the finding of three score parachutes caused fears of lurking parachute troops

Observers reported that the bombers engaged off the southwest coast probably were Dorniers, Germany's heaviest, following up a "spotting" flight made over that region earlier in the morning

The German airforce, heretofore reluctant to use these big bombers, now was believed to be throwing them into the battle for Britain

At the same time authoritative quarters acknowledged a rapid advance of Italian forces in far-off British Somaliland, and the home guard, troops and police continued efforts to explain the mysterious appearance of parachutes in the midlands and Scotland and track down any parachutists who may have used them

Italians Advance

The Italians in Somaliland were admitted to have made an advance "more rapid than expected" along the coastal road from Zeila toward Berbera despite yesterday's naval bombardments and were said to be about 60 miles west of the capital and chief port, Berbera.

At least 80 planes were believed by observers to have taken part in one southeast coast battle fought so high it took one pilot, whose plane was sent spiralling into a field, 15 minutes to drift to the sea in his billowing parachute.

Probably 30 planes participated in another battle over the channel

At least four planes were sent crashing or were forced to land in this short, 15-minute combat. The bombers struck suddenly, and in a few minutes the deadly "bump" of bombs could be heard inland.

Battles Widespread

The press association also reported "widespread enemy air activity off the northeast coast," and over a southwest coast town yet another half-hour battle, engaging "about 30 planes," developed.

This was described as "the fiercest fight this town has seen," with "planes falling out of the sky," some in flames.

Cannon shells and machine-gun bullets spattered the streets, and the planes shook the house-tops with their roar.

Meters Yielding Funds at Rate of $1,000 a Month

Parking meter collections for the two and one-half day period ending yesterday totaled $80 11, bringing receipts for the first 10 days of the meters' operation to $325 71, City Auditor Elmer Shaw reported today

While the collection made yesterday was the smallest that has been made thus far, officials pointed out that the period during which the nickels were accumulating in the meters was only a little over two days, the last collection having been made late Saturday.

Average for 10 Days

Figures compiled by Mr Shaw show that the 103 meters have taken in on an average of 32 cents a day for the first 10 days and on the basis of these figures city officials estimate receipts from the meters will amount to nearly $1,000 a month The city now is renting the meters on a one-year basis and the first payment, amounting to approximately $360, is to be made next month

Officials estimate that if the city decides to keep the meters at the end of the one-year rental period the year's collection will pay the rental and purchase price of the meters and still leave approximately $6,000 in the meter fund which can be transferred to the general fund

Busiest Meter Zone

If the meters are purchased, the only expense after the first year will be for maintenance and repair.

The largest single collections yesterday were made from two adjacent meters on the south side of West Center street midway from Marion to Prospect streets, tabulations made by Mr Shaw indicate Both of these meters yielded $1 25, indicating that the two parking spaces were "paid for" continuously during the two and one-half days.

Fourteen Received First Day; Deadline Is Saturday.

Fourteen persons from Marion and surrounding counties filed entries yesterday for exhibits at the Marion county fair, which will open Tuesday.

Among them were residents of Marion, Morrow and Knox counties The first day's registration was ahead of last year, James W Hungate, fair board secretary, reported Approximately 110 individuals had exhibits at the 1939 fair.

Entries will be received at the fair board office today and tomorrow from 9 a. m to 5 p m and Saturday from 9 a. m to 10 p m. The registrations are being handled by Mrs Clifford Strine of Waldo and Miss Maxine Rinehart of Morral, assistants to James W Hungate, fair board secretary.

While the entries were being filed and classified, work went ahead at the county fairgrounds where workmen are getting things in shape for next week's exposition. Four carpenters today were constructing booths in the art hall, which this year is given over almost entirely to the junior fair department.

WILLKIE HEADS FOR INDIANA

To Fly to Scene of Acceptance Speech Today; Views on Draft Awaited.

By The Associated Press

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Aug 15 — Wendell L. Willkie will fly into today to Indiana where, in his acceptance address Saturday, he is expected to disclose for the first time his views on military conscription.

The Republican nominee arranged to address a crowd at the Kansas City airport (about 5:35 p m Marion time) during a brief stop. His chartered plane was scheduled to arrive in Indianapolis at about 9 p. m. (Marion time) and he then will motor to Rushville, Ind., the home town of Mrs. Willkie.

Close to Printer

The acceptance address which Willkie will deliver Saturday at Elwood, Ind., his own home town, probably will cover the general range of campaign issues, as well as conscription. He gave the address a last minute going over yesterday and sent it to the printer.

On the eve of his departure from his vacation hotel, Willkie renewed his demand that the Democratic national committee return funds paid for advertising in party campaign books and suggested creation of "an impartial board" to enforce election laws

The nominee said at his press conference he believed the question of "machine political control" would be a major one in the presidential campaign. Then, in response to questions, he named foreign policy and national defense as the two top issues.

Aid to Great Britain short of war and a demand for a revitalization of defense were understood to be among the candidate's approaches to those two questions.

Industry Important

Willkie was expected to emphasize particularly his belief that the problem of national defense is intermeshed with that of industrial production.

While the candidate has given no public statement of his stand on conscription, some of his callers have indicated he would approve the idea.

Willkie reported yesterday that Gen. Hugh Johnson, who favors conscription, [illegible] one of his "particular [illegible]" in the preparation of his acceptance address. Other advisers included L. J. Taber, national grange master.

Nation's Effort To Rearm Below Its Maximum

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Aug. 15 — Col. Leonard P. Ayres looked back today on the first half of 1940 and declared:

"Certainly the statistics of business reveal little evidence to indicate that we have been putting our maximum energies into a great national effort for rearmament.

"All in all the record has been one of business as usual and on a comparatively low level of industrial and financial activity. Perhaps the next six months will be less usual.

National income the first six months was about five per cent greater than the like period of 1939 as physical volume of industrial production increased 13 per cent, the economist-statistician calculated.

Railroad freight loadings increased more than 10 per cent and business transactions settled by check payments were up five per cent, but "these are not very impressive increases," he said.

The Cleveland Trust Co. vice president pointed out there was about a seven per cent increase in employment which "still left some nine millions of unemployed in June of this year."

"There has been little new corporate financing in recent months, and almost none for the purpose of increasing industrial capacity for producing war materials," Ayres added.

humanitarian plan of relief was being opposed by the British and the American governments. Mr. Hoover's plan calls for a very large American administration set up to supervise and control and inspect the actions of Germany over a large part of the European continent.

Is there any good reason to think that Hitler would permit Mr. Hoover to exercise any such control as Mr. Hoover proposes? If, as has already been indicated in Berlin, what Hitler would allow is what he has allowed the Red Cross to do in Poland, then obviously what the Nazis mean and what Mr. Hoover means are two totally different things. For while the Red Cross has supervised the distribution of relief in Poland, it has never controlled the food supplies of Poland or done any of the other elaborately difficult things which are called for in the Hoover plan. Nor could such a control be exercised by the few Americans who have been permitted to work in Poland. It would require a very great organization with vast powers to begin to do what the Hoover plan calls for.

Tribe Wins, Keeps Lead on Smith's 1-Hitter

Webb's Single Spoils Al's Try for Perfect Game Against White Sox.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 15.—Al Smith had control — more control than at any other time in his major league career.

The veteran southpaw gave the Cleveland Indians a 4 to 0 shutout over the Chicago White Sox last night with the first one-hitter he ever pitched.

Only Jimmy (Skeeter) Webb's pop single in the third inning deprived the winner of a place in baseball's hall of fame.

"Chalk it up to control," said the grinning hurler. "I hit the corners repeatedly and never gave them a good ball to hit."

That's the way it was as 59 068 fans—the largest night crowd of the major league season—cheered a pitching masterpiece that kept the Indians out in front with a two-game lead over Detroit.

Smith walked only one man and fanned four in hanging up his 13th victory against five losses.

He had good support in the hitting of Roy Weatherly and Lou Boudreau. Little Stormy singled and scored on Boudreau's triple in the first inning, then tallied his sixth home run of the season in the third, driving in Smith who had walked. Boudreau accounted for the other marker, racing home after his triple in the first as Webb threw wild.

Edgar Smith, tasting defeat for the ninth time, yielded six safe blows.

By BILL WHITE
Associated Press Sports Writer

The old guys with the funny deliveries did all right.

In yesterday's two best-pitched games, King Carl Hubbell of the Giants and Al Smith of the Cleveland Indians, the foremost exponents of the screwball, recalled the old days when they used to win regularly what they win only occasionally now.

Tribe Holds Lead

Smith, of the two, turned in the better job. Working under the lights, he limited the Chicago White Sox to one hit — Jimmy Webb's single in the third — to enable the Indians to hold their two game league lead by virtue of a 4-0 victory.

The Hubbell victory in the first of a twin bill was a mellerdrammer of the dime novel variety. While old Carl was elbowing his way to a five-hit, 12 inning 1-0 victory over the Bees, old Mel Ott, who was benched for failure to hit recently, stole some of the show. Acting as a pinch hitter in the 12th he singled was sacrificed and scored on Frank Demaree's single.

In the second game Manuel Salvo, a Giant cast-off, blanked his former mates with eight hits to win 6-0.

Meanwhile, the Brooklyn Dodgers had a chance to close the gap between themselves and the idle Cincinnati Reds, but they flubbed it. After winning the first game 6-5, they lost the second 9-8 as Johnny Rizzo and Bob Bragan hit in timely fashion and the Brooks' pitching folded completely.

Yanks Win Again

The New York Yankees crept back into the first division by lambasting the Boston Red Sox for the third straight time, 8-3, as Red Ruffing held the opposition to six hits, three of them homers by Lou Finney, Jimmy Foxx and Ted Williams.

The Detroit Tigers finally came out of their slump, after four losses, to hop on the St. Louis Browns 13-7 in a loosely played game which cost the Browns the services of Johnny Whitehead, who suffered a spiked ankle in a collision at first base.

Buddy Lewis' triple in the ninth with two out and two on gave the Senators a 5-3 victory over the Athletics.

A walk in the eleventh inning with the bases loaded forced in the run that gave the Cards a 7-6 night game victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Spencer Scott Comes Home on Top in Hambletonian

Fred Egan, veteran Lexington, Ky., driver, won the Hambletonian stakes, the nation's top race for trotting horses, in straight heats, with C. W. Phellis' Spencer Scott (2) of Greenwich, Conn. Egan had finished in the money in 10 of 12 Hambletonians but this was his first victory in the big event. Finishing behind him were Remus (3) and Kuno (7) in the second and final heat.

Egan, Hard Luck Guy, Attains Goal By Victory In Harness Race Classic

By ORLO ROBERTSON

GOSHEN, N. Y., Aug. 15—A prediction made a year ago by a former Des Moines bell hop came true yesterday.

As Peter Astra won the 1939 Hambletonian, Fred Egan, now nearing the 60-year mark, stood at the head of the stretch and told all that cared to listen that he would be out there next year receiving honors for winning the world's premier trotting classic.

Little consideration was given his remarks even though the Lexington, Ky., veteran long had ranked as one of the smartest drivers and trainers in the sport. He was known as the hard luck guy of the Hambletonian, having finished in the money in 10 of the 12 in which he had a horse.

Then, too, the horse with which he expected to win, Spencer Scott had shown nothing up to that time, but yesterday Egan proved his statement when he drove Spencer to straight heat victory for C. W. Phelles of Greenwich, Conn., before some 30,000 fans at Good Time park.

Spencer Scott was the people's choice and he justified that honor by stepping the first mile in 2.02, only a half-second off Shirley Hanover's Hambletonian record, and the second in 2.03 to win the purse of $23,077. Remus, owned by Paul Bowser of Boston, Bill Dickerson of Goshen, N. Y., and trainer-driver Harry Short of Columbus, O., and Dunbar Bostwick's Kuno of Westbury, L. I., finished second and third, respectively, in both dashes.

"I had all the luck in the world," said Egan who had driven such famous horses as Van Sandt, 2.00¾ and Braden Direct, 2.01, the quiet Kentuckian's first great horse.

He called it luck but the crowd called it a combination of smart driving and a fast horse.

Each of the 1,332 holes has been worth $7.06 and each round $127.08 to total the $9,405 that makes "Birdie Ben" golf's leading money winner of the year. Memorial trophy and a lead of eighty-one points over Jimmy Demaret, who holds second place.

Marion Horseshoe Team in Match at Galion Saturday

Members of Marion's one time state renowned horseshoe team will go into action Saturday night when they match their skill with that of the Galion All-Stars on the latter's courts.

Rev. Carl V. Roop has been busy the last few days getting together the stars that performed on the Marion team, active in 1936 as a member of the North Central Ohio Horseshoe league which included Willard, Mansfield, Galion, Shelby, Bucyrus and Marion. Rev. Roop served as president of the league until it disbanded in 1938. During the two years the league was in session Marion lost only one match.

Six men will comprise the line-up when the locals invade Galion. Additional players will be taken along as substitutes. Among those who will probably see action are Asa Titus, captain, Elmer Courtney, Clifford Seiter, Ray Pooney, Otis Seiter, Ed Bowman, Carl V. Roop Jr., Rev. Carl V. Roop and John Endicott.

Players making the trip to Galion Saturday are requested to meet at 6:30 p. m. at United Brethren church. Scene of the match will be the floodlighted courts at Howe park.

ROBERTS-COACHED CLUB WINS PROSPECT CROWN

Cops First Half Title with Victory in Playoff.

Team No. 2, captained by Ralph Roberts, won the playoff Monday night for the first half title of the Prospect softball loop by smothering Team No. 1. Teams No. 1 and 3 now are deadlocked for the lead in the second half of the schedule.

Paul Keller's No. 1 outfit playing with a makeshift lineup, was no match for Roberts' squad in the playoff. The Kellermen went down to a 17-2 shellacking. The victors combined 17 hits with nine walks to turn the game into a rout. Chapman and Lauer paced the winners with four hits in four trips.

Team No. 1, however, has since moved into a tie for first place with Harry Waxler's No. 3 club in the second half race. No. 1 trimmed the third-place No. 3 entry, 10-5. Jordan hurled six-hit ball and his teammates connected for eight safeties, including a homer by Donald Bumgartner, for the victors.

The cellar-dwelling No. 2 outfit broke into the win column by scoring a 12-7 victory over No. 4. Rittenhouse, Shucy and Deeds got circuit blows for No. 2 and Dale Bumgartner and Loren McNeal duplicated the feat for the opposition.

Hollywood Stars Deny Communistic Ties, Charged by Witness in Court

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 15—In terms of resentment and disgust Hollywood movie personages deny they are members of the Communist party or financial supporters thereof as charged in a transcript of county grand jury testimony

The testimony was that of John Lewis Leech of Portland, Oregon former Los Angeles house painter, Communist organizer and relief client

Of the many Hollywoodites Leech named, immediate denials came from the following who could be reached, or their spokesmen Fredric March, Francis Lederer, Jean Muir, Humphrey Bogart, Lionel Stander, James Cagney and writer Sam Ornitz

Some of those accused deprecatingly mentioned District Attorney Buron Fitts' current campaign for re-election

Leech testified in an inquiry that resulted in murder indictments last week against five men accused of complicity in a waterfront killing five years ago in a reported union dispute.

So far, there has been no official explanation of any connection between the Hollywood "Red" inquiry and the killing

Leech became involved in various difficulties over his testimony at the Harry Bridges deportation hearing at San Francisco last summer before Dean Landis of the Harvard law school.

Actor March last night said that so far as he was concerned "Leech is an unmitigated liar" and that he would like to meet Leech "face to face and call him a liar"

"I have never knowingly contributed a single penny to the Communist or any other un-American cause," March said.

Writer Ornitz said "I have been consistently attacking District Attorney Buron Fitts on the basis that he is a bad influence for the community, for the home and in general"

Election Coming

"It is sad," Ornitz continued, "that Mr Fitts elected to prey upon and slander innocent people just before the primary election because they oppose him."

Actor Stander reiterated that he never was a Communist party member and declared he is "a real true American favoring democracy"

Stander said the inquiry is "just campaign material for Mr Fitts, who is using big Hollywood names for his own benefit"

Bogart declared he had never contributed money to a "political organization of any form" and said "I dare the men who are attempting this investigation to call me to the stand

In the absence of Cagney on a New England motor tour, his brother-business manager, William, asserted "he is not a Communist, never has been a Communist and never will be"

At Saratoga Springs, N Y., Lederer said "I am not a Communist and have never been one I am volently opposed to communism and everything it stands for"

Representing Miss Muir, Beauvais Fox said at Schenectady, N Y., where she is to appear on the stage next week, that she "told me to say this (the Leech reference to her) is wholly false."

MARKET LIFTED BY OPTIMISM

More Favorable Business and War News Credited with Upturn.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Aug. 15—More optimistic war views and business news were credited with a modest recovery turn in today's stock market.

Without any definite information to go on, Wall street seemed to feel the British now have a chance of beating off the Nazis.

Bonds and commodities held to a fairly steady course.

Stock accorded support included U. S. Steel, Bathlehem, General Motors, Chrysler, United Aircraft, Glenn Martin, International Paper common and preferred, Du Pont, Eastman Kodak, Westinghouse and Montgomery Ward.

Delays in getting the national tax program through congress were said by brokers to remain as a speculative restraint.

WHEAT PRICES OFF ABOUT CENT TODAY

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Aug. 15 — Wheat prices tumbled about a cent a bushel today, establishing new seasonal lows at levels unequaled here in almost a year. May corn dropped a cent.

Liberal movement of new wheat in the northwest, although most of this grain is being put into storage for government loans, resulted in moderate pressure of hedging sales in the pit. Favorable corn belt weather attracted most attention in that market although traders pointed out that the minimum price on corn in Argentina has been abolished. Argentina has large exportable surplus and small shipments were made this week to Canadian and United States ports.

Wheat closed ⅝ cent lower than yesterday, Sept 71⅞-72, Dec 73¼-⅜; corn ⅛-1¼ lower, Sept 60⅜, Dec. 55⅛; oats ⅛-⅝ lower.

Youths Held in Marion Car Theft After Hunt by Score of Officers

Three Negro youths charged with stealing an automobile here early today, wrecking it and then attempting to steal another car at Bucyrus were captured near Bucyrus early today after a three-hour search in which more than a score of officers participated.

One of the youths listed by police as Frank Baughman, 17, of Indianapolis, Ind., suffered a fractured right elbow in the accident and is in Bucyrus City hospital. The others, listed as Thomas Ross King, 17, of Columbus and Herman Harris, 17, of Cincinnati, are being held in the Crawford county jail at Bucyrus. Officials reported that charges of auto theft will be filed against all three this afternoon, probably at Bucyrus.

Search for the three started about 3:30 a. m. when the stolen car, owned by Mrs. Norma B. Burgener of 745 Bellefontaine avenue, left the pavement and crashed into a tree at the intersection of State Routes 4 and 98 at the southwest edge of Bucyrus.

Eluds Police

Neighbors who heard the crash called Bucyrus police but by the time officers arrived the occupants had fled. A few minutes later, the officers discovered three youths attempting to start a car owned by Joseph Kibler of Bucyrus. The youths ran when they saw the policemen and escaped.

The officers organized a wide-spread police net for the trio throughout southern Crawford county and at about 6:30 a. m. State Patrolmen W. C. Corder of the Marion sub-station and E. H. Cole of the Mansfield sub-station apprehended them as they walked out of cornfield onto a county road three miles southeast of Bucyrus.

Car Demolished

Officers went to the Burgener home here, aroused members of the family and learned that the theft had not yet been discovered. The Burgener car, a light 1930 coach, was demolished, Bucyrus police reported.

Taking part in the search were Patrolmen Lewis Cunningham and Edward Hoffman and Desk Sergeant Clyde Hardin of the Marion police department, State Patrolman Corder, state patrolmen from the Mansfield and Bellevue stations, Galion and Bucyrus police, Crawford county sheriff deputies and a half dozen railroad detectives. The officers combed several square miles of farmland south of Bucyrus, concentrating chiefly in the vicinity of the New York Central railroad southeast of Bucyrus.

The Stars Say—

FOR FRIDAY, AUG 16

THE ASTRAL influences bearing on the affairs of this day must be read as dubious, doubtful and radical, with the prospect of strange situations to be unraveled by discretion, sound judgment and probably by the wise counsel of less disturbed and confused heads. Papers, all sorts of writings, of a business as well as intellectual or legal nature, should be handled with utmost discretion.

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves involved in a year in which perplexities and problems call for much calm discretion, sagacity and friendly suggestion, since there are hints of loss, fraud, misconstructions anent writings, documents or legal matters, caused by carelessness. It would be well to make no radical change although there will be a strongly undermining and uprooting force inciting to just such critical venture.

A child born on this day should be shrewd, clever, versatile and full of new notions and ideals, perhaps erratic and fond of change.

SLENDERIZING BOLERO ENSEMBLE

PATTERN 4442

There's a gracious "leading lady" look about this frock and bolero, Pattern 4442 by Anne Adams. You'll start off the fall season by wearing the ensemble, with the tailored, long-sleeved bolero, as a street outfit. Later, you'll wear the dress alone under your coat. Just see those well-balanced lines! The front skirt panel gives slim flattery. The simple bodice is shirred or gathered at the shoulders and darted above the waist to keep its easy fullness in place. A row of tiny buttons from the V-Neck to the waist creates nice up-and-down lines. A gay idea is to contrast the rounded revers of the jacket to match the dress. Let the Sewing Instructor help you finish quickly.

Pattern 4442 is available in women's sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48. Size 38, dress, takes 3½ yards 39 inch fabric. Bolero, 1⅝ yards.

COLUMBUS, O — Free tickets to the movies are helping to beautify Ohio's highways.

Under state highway department sponsorship, 10 Columbus theaters are granting free admittance to children under 17 in exchange for a pint of Hollyhock seeds. These, and other seeds deposited in street corner barrels, are being planted along central Ohio roadsides.

Landscape Architect D. D. Dupre said the hollyhock plantings were the latest development in the department's six year program of roadside beautification.

Since 1934, he said, approximately 250 roadside parks, with clean water and picnic facilities have been built, with many more now under construction.

In addition, trees, grass and shrubs have been placed along both new and old roads, to control erosion and remove unsightly barren plots. Roadside improvement, Dupre said, is now a part of nearly all construction projects sold by the highway department.

The cost Dupre estimated at approximately $100,000 a year, or two per cent of the department's total expenditures. Of this, about $85,000 is directed specifically toward erosion control, with the remaining $15,000 set aside for general planting and beautification.

RAINS LITTLE HELP TO OHIO

Soaking Downpour Needed by State's Crops Parched by Drouth.

By The Associated Press

Rain fell sparingly in scattered sections of Ohio Wednesday, bringing slight relief to parched crops suffering heavily from an extended dry spell.

Agronomists generally throughout the state stressed the need for a soaking downpour to make up deficiencies for July and the first half of August. Hardest hit were the western, central and southern districts.

In the central Ohio area, Dr C. J. Willard of the Ohio State university agronomy department described the current drought as the worst he had ever seen and said the crop loss was already so great that a heavy rain "wouldn't do much good."

Corn, Ohio's major crop, is suffering most from the dry weather, agricultural experts reported. Soybeans are turning brown and fruits are feeling the lack of moisture.

An increase of chinch bugs and corn earworms was reported in the Cleveland area where .06 inch of rain in July was 2.49 below normal.

Coast guard officials began an investigation when they figured the ship was about 450 miles east of New York.

After a talk with the President yesterday, Cudahy said he had been authorized to say that he received "no rebuke and none was intended."

Court News

New Trial Sought

Motion for a new trial on the grounds of newly discovered evidence has been filed by Tommy Foster Dye in his common pleas court action against the industrial commission of Ohio to share in workmen's compensation funds. He contends that one member of the jury which early this summer returned a verdict against him "could not see" and had one of the fellow jurors sign the verdict thinking that it was in favor of the plaintiff. He also avers that another juror, who stated he was not an employer or contributor to the state industrial commission was at the time a partner in a business employing other people. The new trial motion was prepared for Mr. Dye by Paul D. Smith, R. N. Larrimer and Mouser & Mouser.

FBI ASKS TO EXHUME BODY IN DEATH PROBE

Husband Convinced Nurse Was Slain on Lake Boat.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Aug. 15—While U. S. Marshal Benjamin Mozee of Nome, Alaska, sped toward Cleveland today to join the investigation of his wife's mysterious death in Lake Erie, federal bureau of investigation agents said they would ask his permission to exhume her body for post-mortem examination.

Before boarding a plane at Seattle, Mozee said he was convinced his wife had been slain and robbed.

The body of the 53-year-old former nurse washed ashore at Geneva-on-the-Lake July 31 but was not identified until after officers of the steamship Seeandbee, which she boarded July 29 for a trip to Buffalo, reported her missing Tuesday.

Frank E. Elliott of Cleveland, a brother, established identification from clothing and jewelry taken from the body before burial in Ashtabula county.

"There is no question of suicide as she was not of that temperament," Mozee said at Seattle, where he arrived last week-end after taking federal prisoners to Portland, Ore.

"I feel certain she was slain. I can't understand how a passenger could drop out of sight on a steamer and not be missed until two weeks later.

"All the circumstances as reported to me sound highly fantastic and I intend to get to the very bottom of the case."

WAR

rope today with the torpedo sinking of a Greek warship by an unidentified submarine amid Italian newspaper threats of an attack on Greece.

In London, Prime Minister Winston Churchill told the house of commons:

"Although we are very much stronger than we were in May, the danger of invasion has by no means passed away."

Telephonic communication between Athens and Rome was severed after the Greek government announced the sinking of the 2,115-ton light cruiser Ifeile.

Premier John Metaxas immediately summoned chiefs of the Greek army, navy and air force.

Greece has a full guarantee of military aid from Great Britain in the event her independence is threatened. From a British standpoint the plunging of Greece into a belligerent role would provide closer naval and air bases for a direct attack on Italy.

An authoritative British source said today no British submarine was in the vicinity of Tinos, the Greek island off which the Greek cruiser was sunk today. This source added that Italian submarines were known to have been operating there.

Bulgaria, too, was involved. The Rome radio broadcast a report from Moscow that Greece had appealed to Russia to intercede in Greece's crisis with Italy.

Russia reportedly was asked to prevent Bulgaria from seizing on the Greek Italian crisis to press demands for the cession of Greek-owned Thrace and an outlet to the Aegean sea.

Back for Fifth Day

After a night lull, waves of German bombers returned to the attack on Britain for the fifth successive day of intensive raids, striking at Folkestone and Lympne and dueling at barrage balloon defense in the vicinity of Dover.

DNB, the official German news agency, said the Nazi raiders penetrated British defenses without loss in a series of air fights.

With still no sign of a cross-channel invasion, the London press taunted Nazis for failure to carry out the heralded "Der Tag" conquest of the British isles by mid-August.

During the morning hours, the five-day-old showdown assault was marked by comparatively small-scale clashes over the southeast coast, with at least five German bombers reported shot down.

Simultaneously, the British press association reported "widespread enemy air activity off the northeast coast of England."

The skies were cloudless, but in their raids on the south coast the German planes flew so high that spectators on the ground could see little of the action, except for an occasional shell-torn plane screaming down into a crash.

80 in One Battle

About 60 planes fought in one battle, while 30 others blasted at each other with cannon and machine-gun high over the channel.

Said the British Press association:

"Aug. 15, the date on which Hitler was to make his triumphal march into London, is here.

"In a few hours it will be gone, with Britain still mistress of her own fate, of the seas and of the air around her coast."

Nazi blamed poor flying conditions for the overnight hiatus in raids after four-straight days of aerial blitzkrieg against England.

RAF Strikes Back

But British RAF bombers took to the skies in a smashing night counter-punch, blasting Nazi air and invasion bases from Calais to Le Havre along a 100-mile front in German-occupied France.

For more than an hour observers in southeast coast towns heard the distant wail of air raid sirens and the steady thud of bombs from France. Fires glowed against the far-off skyline and more than 100 bomb flashes were counted while the air was dotted with starlike bursts of anti-aircraft fire.

The British reported, meanwhile, that the intensity of Nazi night raiding had fallen off sharply.

Germans attributed the let-up to unfavorable weather but said Adolf Hitler's blitzkrieg plan had taken such temporary interference into account.

Afoot and in armored cars British home defense units searched moors in Scotland and woods in the midlands for possible Nazi parachutists after some 60 German-marked parachutes were found.

Another Scare?

There was no sign of any Germans, however, and some British were inclined to consider it another Nazi scare scheme.

German spokesmen pooh-poohed the reports as a "midsummer night's dream" and added "The English mind is full of fantasy."

Yesterday the British claimed 26 German planes shot down to four British lost, making a total for Thursday, Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of 291 Germans to 72 British.

The Germans reported 22 British downed to five German planes for a total of 385 British to 86 German.

The British admiralty announced yesterday's midlands air raids.

"There was the possibility that empty parachutes had been dropped as a deliberate scare so Britains would be taken off their guard when an actual parachute invasion is attempted.

Eleven German airmen were reported captured in the midlands.

Truckers Reported

Rumors that German troops in Norway had been rehearsing with buggipes and had collected Scottish kilts as well as British uniforms for trick landings heightened watchfulness.

Stray planes only were reported during the night over Wales and southwest England and open country in east Scotland. The bomber over Scotland was shot down.

In contrast to recent nights, no night bombings were reported.

In the war at sea, meanwhile, a German submarine sank the 16,923-ton armed merchant cruiser Transylvania, once a West Indies cruise ship operating out of New York.

The admiralty said the sinking occurred somewhere in the Atlantic. Between 30 and 40 sailors were believed lost but more than 300 officers and men were landed at a west coast port.

Sept 15 Deadline

(British have set Sept. 15 as the deadline for any Nazi attempt at invasion this year, since from then on weather conditions over the English channel and the North sea would hinder transportation of troops.)

Military observers in Germany said today the mass aerial attacks had gone on long enough to have established a more or less steady ratio of Nazi and British losses. These quarters, as well as the high command, said the English over the course of a week had been losing about four planes to each German lost.

A portion of the Nazi press resumed its lectures to Switzerland on "the responsibilities of neutrality."

The German newspapers challenged Switzerland to defend her neutrality by keeping out British planes which were reported to have flown over Swiss territory yesterday on their way to bomb objectives in northern Italy.

At the same time Swiss newspapers and other Swiss quarters were accused of taking the attitude that Germany has a special obligation to forestall famine in Nazi-occupied France.

BRITISH

served from one point alone on the British coast.

While Aug 15 dawned without the launching of the long-expected Blitzkrieg, it was assumed the British were striking at all the possible gathering places for the troops, tanks, guns, boats and machines which Hitler is planning to use for the surprise attempt.

The Germans' attempts to get behind the coastal defenses for attacks on airports and other vital objectives indicated they were following their familiar tactics in efforts to establish the conditions for invasion.

Strike at Troops

(The German communique reported widespread attacks yesterday on British troop concentrations in the southeast, particularly at the big camp of Aldershot, airports, armament works at Worcester and at Salisbury, north of Portsmouth, an electric transformer between Brighton on the south coast and Lewes, seven miles away, and port facilities on the south coast.)

The systematic search for parachutists was touched off by the finding of three score German silk parachutes, 17 of them in one place, two of which were neatly folded.

Although no parachutists had been found, the discovery of 17 in one place seemed to preclude the possibility they had been used by aviators shot down in the loss of the 16,923-ton armed merchant cruiser Transylvania, once a West Indies cruise ship from New York, and the seventh largest liner sunk in the war.

The Transylvania went down in the Atlantic four hours after being torpedoed. Thirty to 40 sailors were believed lost and more than 300 others were rescued.

Greece Prepares

Pro-British Greece worked hastily overnight on her plans for defense against a possible Italian military threat through Albania. Premier John Metaxas conferred for hours with his army chief and cabinet after discussions with axis representatives in which the Italian minister was said to have demanded that Greece enter Italy's sphere of influence.

From Shanghai it was reported that the foreign defense council in a secret four-hour meeting, had agreed on division of control of the international settlement's British sector by American and Japanese forces, in spite of Japanese hopes that the United States might follow the British example in withdrawing its troops.

AMONG REFUGEES FROM ENGLAND

Four-year-old Peter Jaques arrives in New York aboard the liner S. S. Scythia with other young refugees fleeing the blitzkrieg on England. With him is the English movie dog, Royce von Luckner, whose great grandfather was Hollywood's famed Rin Tin Tin. Note the gas mask.

OHIO PAINTERS WANT BROADER JOB SECURITY

By The Associated Press

SANDUSKY, O., Aug 15—The A. F. L. Ohio State Painters council wants the state unemployment compensation law to cover all employers—even those employing only one workman—and the suspension payments to start one week after workers become jobless.

These were among changes in the plan recommended at closing sessions of the state's semi-annual conference at Put-in-Bay, Cedar Point.

The council endorsed Martin L. Davey, Democratic candidate for governor, and criticized Republican Gov. Bricker for "hiring non-union painters in reconditioning of state liquor stores."

CRAWFORD CO. JUNIOR FAIR CLOSES TODAY

Young People Hear Talk by Rep. Petri of Galion.

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, Aug. 15—Amateur entertainment including tap dancing, instrumental and vocal selections and a talk by State Representative Kenneth Petri of Galion, Democratic candidate for congress, were highlights of the Wednesday night fair program offered as a part of the junior fair held at the county fairgrounds Wednesday and today.

The fair closed this afternoon with the finals in a pulling contest for boys' teams from the 10 rural schools of the county and the style show by girls.

Judging of livestock was completed Wednesday under the direction of vocational agriculture teacher, D. B. Robinson of Kenton.

The junior fair was substituted for the regular county fair this year after a bond issue for erection of a grand stand failed to meet with the approval of Crawford county voters. The old grand stand was destroyed by fire last winter.

CHAPTPER FORTY-FIVE

Not Discerning Enough'

"I REMEMBER now that the chaplain was shocked when we told him about the piece of [illegible]," I said. "But Gerald—should she have suspected him [illegible]. And if she did, why keep [illegible]?"

She was stupid, she wanted [illegible] and she had a grudge [illegible] the world. So had Felicia. [illegible] really told me she was [illegible] of an FBI man; and I [illegible] on investigation, that she [illegible] the same story when [illegible] for the position of [illegible]. Furthermore, she [illegible] references in proof of her as[illegible]. There was such a man; and shortly after his death his widow disappeared. I won't bore you with the details of the undercover work we have done, from both ends, checking the story. I had the report this morning. The widow is living abroad. Felicia was a girlhood friend whom she had not seen in recent years, but with whom she kept up an intermittent correspondence. When her husband died she had sent Felicia copies of her references in the hope that Felicia could find a job for her, and had never thought to ask for them back.

"Felicia, she said, had been engaged to a stockbroker who lost his shirt in the depression and them disappeared. And there was some talk of Randly's midas hand being behind the failure. I think we can safely assume that Bridewell is the missing broker. In what company he has spent the intervening years, we can't yet say. He has managed to keep out of jail, otherwise his prints would be on record. But one can imagine the two, separate and penniless, nursing their wrongs, coming together again and hatching their plot for revenge and for financial restitution. That would have been all, at first. Then the panic of near discovery, the intoxication, for Felicia, at least, of pitting her wits against the law. She had never seen the chaplain. Why would she hesitate to sacrifice a life that meant nothing to her, for one that meant everything?"

"But how could they hope to keep up the deception?"

"Ingenuous Disguise'

"They didn't. Colonel Pennant tells me that the chaplain had already put in for a change of station because of his health. That poison oak was a diabolically ingenuous disguise—It would even account for any variation in his signature, because of his disabled hands. And they wouldn't have permitted it to wear off until he was safely away from here I think that, somewhere en route to the new station, the chaplain would have disappeared from the train. And after a safe inteval Felicia would have given up her job and followed. The money is probably in a safe-deposit box in Chicago. We haven't discovered it yet, but we will. All but the twenty-five hundred one-dollar bills. And Randly will consider that well spent—"

"There's only one thing I don't understand," I said, after a little pause. "Why did they kill Ivan?"

"Ivan's was the most casually vindictive murder I have ever encountered. And it was a mistake. A most fortunate one for me, by the way. It leaked out after the ransom was paid that an FBI man had impersonated the butler that night. Of course he didn't see me, he only heard me speak, and h'I may say I can do a very nice Cockney when h'I 'ave to. My father was English, you see, and we lived over there until his death. Now I'm an American like my mother.

"It was Ivan's misfortune that he had fallen into a slight confusion as to the manner of speech of the typical Oxford man. It wasn't very good Cockney, either, to a discerning ear—but it attracted the chaplain's attention."

"Oh, there was something else, too!" I exclaimed. "I've just thought of it. The night of the beach party I asked Ivan if he was an actor and he quoted Shakespeare about all the world's a stage and one man in his time plays many parts. Then he said his vocation was more important than acting. It must have been just his dramatic way of leading up to his writing. Perhaps he felt he had a mission; but I thought Sandra shushed him. Anyway, he didn't go on. And the chaplain was listening. He must have thought—" I paused, horrified by the realization that, but for that speech, it might have been Gerald.

"Exactly," Gerald agreed grimly. "I'm afraid he acted hastily, in pure rage and without reference to Felicia's more subtle brain. She might, perhaps, have set him on the right track. It has been on her account, I may add, that I have played the fool. She is not quite subtle enough, fortunately for me, to realize that more than one can play at that game. Though she may have had doubts of me originally she quickly lost them. I could almost hear her think that no man would deliberately make such an idiot of himself."

"I saw through that," I remarked complacently.

"As I have said elsewhere, you're a discerning young person. But not, fortunately, discerning enough. I blame myself for not making sure you understood. But you see, I thought you were perfectly safe at the Pennants. You told me, if you remember, that you were spending the night there," he added reproachfully.

"Circumstance — er, arose," I said weakly.

"I hope you'll be more careful about circumstances in future, then. Have you any idea how you disrupted the forces of law and order last night?".

"What do you mean?"

"I thought you probably wouldn't know. Well, to begin with my movements last night: I left you at the Pennants' before dinner and drove to Fieldstone Inn where I had an engagement to meet a colleague. No, not the gentleman in need of eyelashes. That was a reporter. The man I met last night was the operative who hopes to identify Bridewell as soon as the poison oak heals. I concluded my business, came back to the post, to the club—to your rooms, to be exact. I was still concerned about that shorthand notebook which I had not been able to locate. And there it lay, in full view on your table."

While I was absent with Jeff, I reflected.

"Impassioned Slush"

"I seized upon it and took it to my rooms. I'm no expert. It took me a while to decipher that impassioned slush. Kay, I'm surprised at you. I did think it might be in code, but I gave that up when I came to the line at the end. I gave it up in favor of a search for Lover's Return. I seem, by the way, to have been the only person involved who did not know about that manuscript. Next time you're passing the information, please give me a slice too!

"I came back to your rooms because, of course, it had to be something of yours. I went quietly, because I had no desire to attract attention. And of course I saw your things were packed. I thought you had been there, packed up and gone back to the Pennants, leaving your things to be called for in the morning. You see, everything was dark. I had no way of knowing you were bunking with Felicia."

"You thought Lover's Return might be a story in a magazine," I said smiling a little at memory of my fright. "So you leafed through the stack on the table, didn't you?"

"How did you know?"

"Never mind—go on."

"Well of course, I thought of a manuscript and did what I should have done earlier—went back to the colonel's quarters to ask you about it."

"Leaving the notebook behind."

"Forgot it," he said briefly. "Though I can't say it seemed an important oversight."

"It wasn't," I assured him. "If you mean that by doing so you endangered my life I had already thought of the manuscript and gone to find it when I saw the notebook. I suppose—they had it all day?"

"Unquestionably. And the night before, when you heard someone moving about in your rooms, it must have been Bridewell looking for Lover's Return. I have a theory that Sandra was carrying the notebook, probably just having added her postscript, when she was killed. But didn't you have a copy of the manuscript in your papers?"

"Yes, but it wasn't named, I couldn't think of a title until I was copying it; and of course Sandra's story wasn't in the copy I kept. And that makes me think of something else—"

I told him then about the library in the chapel and the book Come Back, My Heart. "It must have been that by then they were grasping at straws."

"So finally they decided to leave the notebook there for you to find and lead them to the right story."

"I wonder if Felicia didn't guess when I read her the letter. She went right to the chaplain's rooms—said he needed towels."

"You can depend on it, they would leave no stone unturned. He was probably on his way to break open your suitcase when he found you there ahead of him—"
